Art Reception.
 The annual reception of the art department of the Woman's College of Richmond will be given Thursday evening in the college chapel, where the best work done during the session will be hung.

The college certificate for proficiency in art will be awarded this year to Miss Elizabeth Lee Harrison, of Richmond, and the teacher's prize for improvement to Miss Mary Kirk, of Roanoke, Va.

The work of the session has been up to the usual college standard. Especially features of interest are the life work done in Class III, and six large tapestries painted by members of the special students' class. Misses Harrison and Kirk will each leave a piece of work with the college, as is the custom with those receiving certificates and prizes from the institution. These studies form part of the permanent art collection the college is making.

A short program by the members of the vocal and elocution department, who are receiving certificates of proficiency, will precede the social features of the evening. These young ladies are pupils of Mrs. M. A. Martin, of the music faculty, and Miss Helen Pollard, of the elocution department.

The program follows:

HONOR SIR MOSES EZEKIEL.
 King of Italy Makes Him Officer of the Crown of Italy.

The friends of Sir Moses Ezekiel, the well-known Richmond sculptor, now making his home in Rome, were pleased to learn that he had received from the Italian government, or more properly from the King of Italy, the honor of "Officer of the Crown of Italy."

Sir Moses Ezekiel has been knighted by several of the sovereigns of Europe, has received degrees of honor in art and science from nearly all of the academies and associations of the Old and New World.

He has also carried off many medals for his work, none of which he has valued more highly than the "Prize of Rome," from the Royal Academy of Berlin, which sent him to the Eternal City for two years, with a stipendium of $1,600 per annum in 1874. Sir Moses has since made his home in Rome, where he has established in the ruins of the baths of Diocletian, the piazza Della Termini, one of the most interesting and unique studios in the whole of Europe.

One of the most important works of this distinguished artist is to be exhibited at the opening of the new sculpture gallery of the Art Museum of Cincinnati next Saturday.

CHILD SWALLOWED SCREW.
 Doctors Unable to Remove Bit of Steel from Stomach.

Two Fulton children were laid up by accidents yesterday, one of which it is feared may have serious consequences.

A two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Bottoms, of Farrandville, just below Fulton, while playing on the floor picked up an inch and a half screw and swallowed it.

All efforts to dislodge the screw from the throat of the child were unavailing, and the screw passed to the child's stomach. Physicians were promptly summoned, and the child's condition is considered serious.

Marie Anderson, a pupil of Nicholson Street School, Fulton, met with a curious accident at school yesterday. The little girl had a needle stuck in her clothes, and while stooping over, the needle entered her side and broke off. The child was taken to her home on Nicholson Street, and Dr. B. L. Adams cut the head of the needle out. While painful, the hurt is not serious.

FLORAL SEED FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN
 Civic Improvement League Distributes Seed to Nine Thousand School Children.

AIM TO BEAUTIFY THE CITY
 Small Citizens Pledge Themselves to Do All in Their Power for Cleanliness.

The annual spring flower seed distribution to the schoolchildren of Richmond was completed yesterday by the Civic Improvement League. Upwards of nine thousand children of the city received a packet of flower seeds, together with a printed card of instructions for the planting and care of flowers, whether for out-of-doors or for window boxes. For a number of years the Civic Improvement League has distributed flower seeds to the schoolchildren of Richmond in both private and the public schools, including the colored. The flower and tree committee of the league speak in enthusiastic terms of the great interest manifested by the little amateur gardeners, and the results produced by their efforts are in many cases little short of marvelous.

The teachers of the city encourage their pupils in flower planting, and the ethical good resulting is not easily calculated.

Every child receiving a package of the league flower seeds pledges as follows:

I. I promise to plant these seeds myself, and take care of their production.
 II. I promise to help keep my back yard clean.
 III. I promise not to throw any paper or trash in the streets of our city.
 IV. I promise (for boys) not to spit on the sidewalk.

V. I promise to do all in my power to make my city more beautiful and attractive.

Among the seeds distributed this year are zinnias, asters, marigold, four-o'clocks, cypress vine, miniature sunflower, callipalos, mignonette, phlox, nasturtium, and others.

The Times-Dispatch heartily seconded this laudable work of the Civic Improvement League among the "little citizens," believing the potentialities for good in it are not easily to be measured. It warrants the support of everybody throughout the city.

SHERIFF SOLOMON WILLING TO SERVE
 Is Putting Up a Red-Hot Campaign, Backed by Bench, Bar and Ex-Jurymen.

Sheriff Simon Solomon, of Henrico county, began an active campaign yesterday to succeed himself. Sheriff Solomon is issuing a circular to the voters, in which is inclosed a printed testimonial signed by Judge Scott, Clerk Waddell and eighty-four practicing members of the Henrico bar. Sheriff Solomon has a wide acquaintance throughout the county, having held office for several years. He has the unqualified endorsement of the men who have served on various juries in recent years, owing to his courteous treatment of the men while under his care.

His opponent in the race is Mr. Leroy H. Kemp, who has been commissioner of revenue of the county for some time.

Mr. John J. Blake, a well-known young attorney, who has practiced before the Henrico court, has announced his candidacy as a member of the legislature in opposition to Mr. C. W. Throckmorton, the present representative of the county in the lower branch of the State Legislature. Mr. Thomas W. Gardner, who has been spoken of frequently by his friend as a possible candidate for Commonwealth's attorney, has concluded not to run. Mr. L. O. Wendenburg.

The present indications are that the election will be held some time in September, will bring out the largest vote in the county in years.

WIFE MAY BEAT HUSBAND.
 Opinion Handed Down by Justice Crutchfield in Henricks Case.

George B. Hendricks was fined $5 yesterday morning in the Police Court for being a nuisance and raising a disturbance in his neighborhood.

It seems that Hendricks was drunk at the time and his wife was giving him a beating. Justice Crutchfield handed down an opinion in the case, saying that any woman had a right to beat her husband when he was drunk.

BEAT INFANT SON.
 But Infant Son Weighed 200 Pounds—Case Omitted.

Farnall Shields (colored) was fined $5 yesterday morning in the Police Court for beating the infant son of John Bowles, also colored. Just before the fine was imposed, however, Justice Crutchfield brought him forward, saying that he would like to see the infant son and called for him. A big black dandy, 200 pounds in weight, but under age, walked forward. Justice Crutchfield gave one gasp; then dismissed the case.
